Master Planning

The QEIMC Trust has commenced a new phase of master planning with Hames Sharley leading a stellar team of consultants. The new master plan will look to map out the campus development for the decades to come, even looking further ahead to 2100.

The master planning process will involve extensive consultation with stakeholders and in the coming months there will be continued opportunity for comments. This includes surveys, workshops, pop up info stalls and much more! Find out all the details and participate in shaping the future of the campus at the QEIMC Futures website.

Have your say, share your ideas and take part in the surveys here: <http://qeimcfutures.com.au/your-ideas/>
